Sunshine Law –requires that public bodies performing business for the public should do so in the open and at a public place. " Essentially, any communication between two members of the same board or committee can be a "meeting" and is prohibited by this law, unless it has been properly advertised and minutes are taken. Examples of potential violations are:

1. A telephone call/text from one board member to another regarding a matter that could be addressed by that board.
2. An email from a fellow board/committee member to another member about issues that could come before the Board they serve on.
